ORDER ASSURES MOTION FOR NEW HAMILTON TRIAL

Granting of Testimony to Grand Rapids Attorneys Means Application.

INTEREST IS AGAIN AROUSED

The order of Judge Streeter to furnish a copy of the celebrated George E. Hamilton case testimony to the two Grand Rapids attorneys for a new trial, caused much talk when read in The News last night. This order does not necessarily mean that Hamilton will be given a new trial, but it is certain that a new trial will be asked.

The facts leading up to and during this celebrated case are still fresh in the minds of the copper country people. What may have been forgotten in the year since Hamilton was convicted has been awakened during the past two weeks by the petition for a copy of the testimony.

George Hamilton was convicted and given a life sentence in Marquette prison, a year ago last November, of sending to August Beck, then sheriff of Houghton county, an infernal machine. E. A. McNally of Calumet, handled the defense but so strong a chain of evidence did the officers wind about the accused that a verdict of guilty was reached by the jury after short deliberation.

The capture of Hamilton was a piece of clever detective work, planned and carried out by Sheriff Beck. Hamilton was taken to Marquette a year ago last Thanksgiving day to serve a term of from 10 years to life in prison. Reports from the institution at different times do not indicate that he has been a model prisoner since his incarceration.

NEW TRIAL IS GRANTED.

Riel-Gauthier Case Will Again be Tried in Circuit Court.

Attorneys P. H. O'Brien and L. N. Legris have succeeded in securing a new trial of the Riel vs. Gauthier case, which was tried during the last term of court. In this case Riel sued Gauthier for alienating Mrs. Riel's affections and was given a verdict of $1,500 by the jury. In the motion for a new trial it was claimed the verdict is unjust in the weight of evidence, and that errors were made in the introduction of testimony. Gauthier is represented by Burrill & Burrill of Hinesock. The motion for a new trial was granted today.

Mrs. I. M. McNabb of Calumet, has been given charge of the field collection work of the Good Will Farm and Home Finding Association to succeed J. O. Prosser, who has resigned to go into business at Palatka, in the iron country.

An order has been placed by Superintendent Walker for an electric motor to operate the farm's water supply. The farm has been in great need of a motor during the past summer and an arrangement with the Houghton County Electric light company made it possible for the farm to get one.

Another urgent need of the farm has been the demand for mattresses and recently three have been procured. An arrangement has been made with the Calumet Mattress company whereby the mattresses will be secured at a very low cost.

An application was received yesterday from Marquette for the admission of four children to the farm. The association placed a child in a home last Friday.

Nearly One Hundred Men Scouring Woods for Body of Hunter.

Reports from Sidnaw indicate that the hunt for the body of Robert Bely, the missing hunter, is being vigorously pushed, and that the number of searchers now scouring the woods is close to a hundred. The fact that a reward of $2,000 is being offered for the finding of the body, either dead or alive, has caused many to leave their work and spend the time searching for the missing man.

It is believed by some that the appetite of hungry wolves was satisfied by the remains of the hunter. The return of the son, William Bely, to his home does not necessarily indicate that the search has been abandoned entirely by the relatives. The father and son were associated in business, conducting a large grocery store at Dowagiac, according to reports received here. It was impossible to allow the business to continue without proper attention and the son returned to his home for that reason. Whether the search has not been learned, but the large reward offered is strong evidence of the desire on the part of the family to secure the remains.

The hospital will be able to give quarters to ten patients very comfortably, but whether or not there will be that many remains to be seen. Some of the patients have been sleeping out of doors in tents but the weather makes other arrangements necessary while preparing the sanitarium.

The teachers in the Adams township schools have commenced the annual visitation period which will be continued for several weeks. It is a plan adopted in Adams township several years ago at the instance of Superintendent Jeffers who finds in the practice great benefit for the teaching corps. The teachers visit the different schools in the township, take notes of whatever importance they may find and later compare it with their own method. Ideas found most practicable are adopted and followed. Previous to adopting a new method it is discussed at a general teacher's meeting. These meetings have always been productive of much good. Teachers from different schools spent yesterday at the Baltic school.

LEVINE'S HEARING TODAY.

Houghton Man to Answer to Charge of Violating Game Laws.

Sheriff John Cosgrove of Baraga county came to Houghton last night and returned with Morris Levine, the Houghton fur trader and cattle buyer, who is wanted in Baraga county on a charge of buying deer. The complaint is made by St. Clair Willson, who seized two deer last Sunday morning which were tagged with Levine's license. The deer were then shipped to the county infirmary.

Levine claims he shot the deer between Baraga and Keweenaw bay after being out only a few hours. The game warden alleges the deer bought of hunters in Baraga county and then shipped to Houghton. Levine will be given a hearing in Baraga today.

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF THE AUTO INDUSTRY.

Rise of Automobile Business Has No Parallel in the Country's History.

"In the history of American industries nothing can compare with the rise and growth of automobile manufacturing," said a local motor enthusiast yesterday. "In 1898 there were fifty automobiles in the United States, while in 1908, according to the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, the American factories built and sold over 60,000 cars valued at $125,000,000."

"In 1898 three or four experimental shops represented the total investment of capital, while at the beginning of 1909 the capitalization of 400 automobile factories together with 2,250 salesrooms, garages, etc., gave employment to about 150,000 mechanics, salesmen, etc. In addition to this 125,000 cars are registered in the various states, with 60,000 chauffeurs employed to take care of them. Three or four years ago the public looked upon the automobile as it did upon the bicycle and concluded that in the course of a few years, when the fever had subsided, it would pass out of existence as the bicycle had done. But today the automobile, both for pleasure and commercial use, is of such utility in the social and business life of our country that it is difficult to imagine how we could live without it. There is no longer any question about the permanence of the automobile. It has passed the experimental stage, and is now recognized as a practical vehicle, and its displacement of the horse is only a question of time.

"The automobile, with its perfect mechanism, with the individual system of propulsion, developed to a point of absolute safety, where it glides gently and noiselessly through the crowded streets and winding thoroughfares, will have an extended use each year until it dominates all the highways of human travel, and supplies safe, comfortable and rapid transit, clean streets and good country roads. During the past 12 months, it has been demonstrated that the automobile is not limited in its use to city streets, but is capable of being an important factor in the life and the work on the farm, on the prairie and on the rough and rugged hills; in fact, only the future will determine in how many ways this great invention of the twentieth century can be of general service to mankind in the varied occupations.

"Will Increase in Popularity. The present output of the automobile factories is only a drop compared to the possible production of ten or twelve years hence, and it is safe to predict that the automobile industry will soon be one of the largest in the country. A direct result of the rapid growth of the automobile business is a big demand for trained men who thoroughly understand the construction, operation and care of automobiles. Factories, salesrooms, garages, repair shops, agencies and owners of cars demand men to hold positions of designers, machinists, assemblers, testers, salesmen, demonstrators, garage managers, repair men, chauffeurs, etc. No other single product of an American factory has at any time created such a demand and wide field for ambitious men as that opened up by the manufacture of automobiles and their accessories, and as the industry is absolutely new and distinct from any other business, it is impossible to draft men from other trades and professions to handle the enormous business successfully unless these men have secured some special automobile training.

"As the demand for men exceeds the supply and will continue to do so for some years to come, the salaries and wages paid in the automobile business are higher than those in the old established trades and professions where the supply is always greater than the demand. The average paid to the

Rothwell Creates a Great Orchestra in St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 2.—Walter Henry Rothwell, first conductor of Parsifal in America, and better known possibly in Vienna than in musical circles of his own country, has come into his own. Two years of arduous and painstaking work with his Saint Paul symphony orchestra of seventy men has rounded out an organization which won a signal triumph in its first winter season concert with Scotti as soloist. A brilliant audience which filled the municipal auditorium cheered the work of his musicians to the echo and following the performance Scotti said:

"You have a really wonderful organization. It is one of the great orchestras of America."

With Carreno as soloist the orchestra scored a second triumph. It is maintained by a guarantee fund from wealthy and music loving citizens and is four years old. His winter season includes evening symphony concerts with noted soloists, and a long series of popular concerts on Sunday afternoons which are drawing an immense attendance.

Conductor Rothwell is a comparatively young man, known for his splendid work in several cities of Europe and in Boston. He is a noted program builder and a leader of rare ability and magnetism.

"Who may rightly be said to be the greatest woman in history? The answer that was awarded the prize was this: 'The wife of a man of moderate means, who does her own cooking, washing and ironing, brings up a family of girls and boys to be useful members of society, and finds time for her own intellectual improvement is the greatest woman in all history.'—Boston Traveler.
